LETTER FROM T

For the last three years, I have been asked to reflect on what USA Ultimate has been doing, with the goal of turning that into a yearly report from the president of the board. While it is a privilege to do so, I often sit for bit and wonder, "How did we (USA Ultimate) do all of that?" This time is no different. The letter from CEO Tom Crawford highlights many of the key initiatives USA Ultimate drove in 2017. However, that list does not reflect the efforts that staff take on every day – whether in the office, at a USA Ultimate event or across the globe at an international event. The efforts of the full-time staff and the volunteers all around the country continually amaze me, and they should amaze you too.

Every year, our board of directors meets four times – twice in person and twice on a conference call. With each and every meeting, we hear back from the staff at headquarters about the numbers, the issues at the forefront and their thoughts on how to continue to move this organization forward. At every meeting, the staff is challenged to work on more projects and to stretch beyond where we have been to create more opportunities for people from all walks of life to experience ultimate. And every year, there is evidence that those experiences are becoming more and more available, more and more valuable and more and more exciting. I am incredibly proud of this organization while fully recognizing that we will continue to find ways to keep doing it better and moving forward.

THE PRESIDENT

2017 marked the start of an effort to ensure continual forward movement of our organization: the development of the next strategic plan, while also planning for the 50th anniversary celebration of our sport (wow!). To kick off the process of developing the strategic plan, staff, volunteers and board members attended Vision Tour stops across the country. Meeting with community members first hand, ideas were shared and (sometimes hard) discussions were had to set the base for the direction of our organization. As of the writing of this letter, that plan has taken shape and is truly a great endeavor that will help guide USA Ultimate, keeping our eyes on the mission of character, community and competition, with equity/diversity/inclusion at the forefront.

Closing out reflections of 2017 makes me dream of what 2018 and beyond will bring – for USA Ultimate, for the sport of ultimate and for those who see the incredible promise our sport holds. I hope you, as members of this organization, continue to see that promise and keep dreaming big. Share your thoughts, concerns and ideas, and remember that we are what you help us to be.

DR. TOM CRAWFORD
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Greetings to all in the USA Ultimate Community,

I am pleased to report that 2017 was another outstanding and exciting year for us at USA Ultimate. We made tremendous strides growing our competition divisions, expanding our local outreach programs and advancing our efforts to broadcast the sport to the world. Also, while other sports shrink, we continue to grow, with an overall 6.5 percent growth in membership, highlighted by 10 percent growth in youth athletes, 8 percent growth in female-identifying players and 16 percent growth in the masters division.

Our international teams attained great success this past year, winning the gold medal at the World Games in Wroclaw, Poland; six gold medals and one silver medal at the World Championships of Beach Ultimate (WCBU) in Royan, France; and gold at the World Great Grand Masters Beach Ultimate Championships in Praia do Meco, Portugal.

We also expanded the structure of the U.S. Open Club Championships, combining it to include both the International Club Championships (ICC) and the Youth Club Championships (YCC) divisions; 36 adult club teams competed alongside 90 youth teams. This was a large and complex undertaking with excellent international participation, the largest YCC in history and the largest U.S. Open Convention yet.

Within our competition divisions, we strove to provide more opportunities for players to participate in our great sport. Our masters division doubled in size from three divisions to six, leading to the 2017 Masters Championships being the largest event in masters division history. The event, as well as the expansion of the division, received great reviews from participants. In the college division, we successfully introduced the College Women's Startup Project, an initiative dedicated to increasing the number of college women's ultimate teams, as well as new college fall mixed regional events. Lastly, our youth division saw increased participation both in number of teams and players at the 2017 High School State Championships. Two new states participated, and six new championship titles were awarded, including two new girls' titles and a middle school title.

Our outreach to local communities was extremely impactful again in 2017. We successfully ran more than 50 outreach and education programs with partners around the country. We also added two new State-Based Organizations and six Affiliates, as we continue to invest in building our national infrastructure to help service and stimulate growth at the local level. This development has been, and will continue to be, a huge focus for our organization.

On the broadcast and exposure front, we had a very successful year, beginning with the execution of a landmark gender-equal broadcast partnership with ESPN, including airing the U.S. Open's mixed championship final live on ESPN2 and the College

Championships finals live on ESPNU. The ESPN2 broadcast included our very first "direct-to-consumer" commercial highlighting the wonder and uniqueness of our beautiful sport, to rave reviews. We also launched the Live Ultimate campaign and live streamed over 120 games from various events, reaching over 13 million Facebook users and hundreds of thousands of viewers on ESPN over the range of broadcasts!

We conducted a strategic planning Vision Tour that stopped in cities across the U.S., providing the community a direct means of sharing input for our next strategic plan and giving us a chance to meet and talk with USA Ultimate members and stakeholders across the nation.

So, it was another very busy and successful year for USA Ultimate, all while continuing to be fiscally responsible, meeting our budget targets and ending the year with a small net of approximately $173,000 and a relatively strong balance sheet.

As is true every year, all of this progress and success is only possible with our incredible dedicated and hard-working professional staff, a helpful and passionate board of directors and, especially, a huge number of incredibly generous volunteers who help all year long all over the country.

Big thanks to all of you!

Dr. Tom Crawford
CEO, USA Ultimate

ABOUT

USA Ultimate is the national governing body for the sport of ultimate in the United States.

USA Ultimate's full-time staff is headquartered in Colorado Springs, Colo., but works with volunteers all across the country to create opportunities to advance the sport. Founded in 1979 as the Ultimate Players Association, the governing body was rebranded as USA Ultimate in 2010.

USA Ultimate is a member of the World Flying Disc Federation (WFDF), ultimate's international federation, and was officially recognized by the United States Olympic Committee as a Recognized Sport Organization in 2014.

Until 2013, the World Flying Disc Federation belonged to the General Association of International Sport Federations and the International World Games Association. In early 2013, after fulfilling all criteria of the International Olympic Committee's (IOC) recognition procedure, the World Flying Disc Federation became a provisional member of the IOC. WFDF became a fully recognized member of the IOC in the summer of 2015.

USA Ultimate oversees the sport at all competitive levels in the United States, from youth and recreational leagues, to college competition and elite, club-level ultimate. USA Ultimate also supports and selects national teams to represent the U.S. in international competitions around the world. USA Ultimate State-Based Organizations

After laying groundwork for the program in 2015, USA Ultimate State-Based Organizations were piloted in 2016. Three organizations came on board in the program's inaugural year: Minnesota Ultimate, New England Ultimate and North Carolina Ultimate. In 2017, two additional programs were founded: California Ultimate and Illinois Ultimate.

State-based organizations act as extensions of USA Ultimate and serve and support the national governing body's mission by administering its programs and services to local affiliates and communities within their respective boundaries. The organizations are a vital part of USA Ultimate's investment in grassroots development initiatives designed to stimulate the growth of ultimate at the local level.

USA Ultimate will continue to grow the state-based organization initiative in the coming years, partnering with local entrepreneurs and providing start-up grants of at least $60,000 over the first three years of each organization's existence.

USA Ultimate Affiliate Program

In 2013, USA Ultimate officially introduced the Affiliate Program. The program was created with the express purpose of supporting and formalizing the development of local area ultimate organizations and leagues into USA Ultimate affiliates in order to unify and promote the sport and assist with the provision and expansion of programs and services to the boys, girls, men and women playing ultimate in its geographic area. Through this closely connected partnership, affiliates benefit from additional resources and opportunities to increase their reach.

Affiliates

An affiliate is an organization that has been approved as a partner of USA Ultimate. Through this partnership, USA Ultimate will support affiliates to unify, promote and provide programs and services to the players in its geographic area. While USA Ultimate maintains a close, programmatic and strategic relationship with affiliates, each affiliate is separate and distinct. Affiliates remain their own corporations that serve their constituents, elect board members and manage affairs as deemed appropriate under the affiliate bylaws. The goal is to build lasting partnerships which USA Ultimate and the local organization will strive to develop, strengthen and maintain.

During the 2017 calendar year, the fifth official year of the Affiliate Program, seven new local disc organizations partnered with USA Ultimate, bringing the program total to 22.

2017 AFFILIATES

Albany Ultimate Disc Association (New York)	Kalamazoo United Youth Ultimate (Michigan)

Each new partner received an Infrastructure Support Grant to help in the transition phase and to support the growth of their respective organizations.

USA Ultimate also instituted new efforts to increase the collaboration and partnerships between all affiliate organizations by bring representatives from each group together at the U.S. Open Convention. The representatives were able to share ideas and initiatives, success stories and suggestions for ways to improve and develop further. Similar efforts will continue in the future as the Affiliate Program continues to grow.

PLAY IT FORWARD

In 2014, USA Ultimate launched the Play It Forward program. Play It Forward provides financial assistance to youth ultimate players with demonstrated need to help cover the cost of their USA Ultimate memberships.

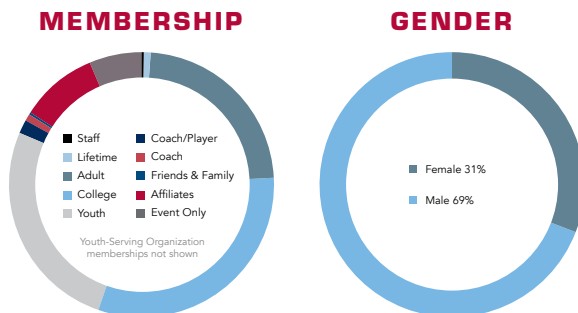

In coordination with the launch of Play It Forward, USA Ultimate created its fourth Signature Series disc which commemorates players, events and moments that signify the sport and USA Ultimate over the past year. Anyone who donated $30 or more to The Ultimate Foundation's Greatest Need was eligible to receive the 2017 Signature Series disc wherein the central image represents the first U.S. Open Club Championships which combined the U.S. Open Championships with the Youth Club Championships, two of USA Ultimate's biggest and most visible events, to feature the best adult athletes competing alongside the best youth athletes. The YCC division featured 90 teams, and the ICC division hosted 36 teams. The image is surrounded by the names and signatures of the 2017 Spirit and Equity, Callahan, Donovan, Peter Farricker, Kathy Pufahl and Marty Bakko Award winners.

Membership Growth

USA Ultimate membership continues to grow each year. After almost exceeding 55,000 members for the first time in 2016, USA Ultimate membership catapulted to 58,378 at the end of 2017, accounting for 6 percent growth. The college division remained USA Ultimate's largest membership category in 2017 with over 18,200 members. Youth came in second, eclipsing 15,000 members. Affiliate membership saw the largest growth percentage in 2017, followed by recreational single event and adult members.

The percentage of female-identifying members continued to increase in 2017, reflecting efforts like the Girls' Ultimate Movement to get more girls and women playing ultimate. More than 1,300 additional female members joined USA Ultimate in 2017.

COMPETITION

Each year, hundreds of ultimate tournaments take place across the United States. At the national and regional levels, USA Ultimate provides competition programs for every age group of its more than 58,000 members.

In 2017, USA Ultimate sanctioned over 520 events and designated 106 regular-season college events and 58 regular-season club events. In addition, USA Ultimate delivered nine high-quality championship events across the youth, college, club, beach and masters divisions.

Inaugural College Mixed Regional Championships

In 2017, USA Ultimate introduced the first-ever College Mixed Regional Championships. Championship events were held in October and November with 68 teams competing across five regions: East, North, Northeast, South and West. After a successful inaugural year, plans are underway to expand the college mixed division to include more events and more teams in the future.

College Women's Startup Project

Housed under the Season Training and Recruitment (STAR) Program, the College Women's Startup Project was established in 2017 to help foster the growth of college women's ultimate by incentivizing new teams and facilitating the development of new women's programs. A 12-person focus group worked to identify the biggest challenges and barriers with starting a new college women's team and came up with a list of benefits that would help ease the process. The following is a list of benefits teams included in the College Women's Startup Project receive:

- Free USA Ultimate college memberships over the course of three years.
- A free team startup kit.
- Assistance with finding a local coach and a free coach membership.

- Access to a women's team alumni support network – people who have started or helped develop college women's teams and can offer practical advice and support.

Nine college women's teams were recipients of the program's first grants during its inaugural year:

- Allegheny Hellbenderitas
- Christopher Newport Rosemary
- Drexel Spitfire
- East Carolina Black Pearl
- Pittsburgh High Voltage
- Providence Women's Ultimate
- Saint Joseph's University Dirty Doves
- St. Thomas Rainy Day Women
- Wheaton (IL) Mastodonnas

U.S. Open Club Championships & Convention

USA Ultimate held its sixth-annual U.S. Open Club Championships & Convention in August 2017, hosting teams from across the United States and the world in Blaine, Minn. The event was rebranded in 2017, changing from the U.S. Open Championships to the U.S. Open Club Championships to reflect the first combined U.S. Open and Youth Club Championships event.

Thirty-six adult teams and more than 830 athletes competed in the International Club Championships (ICC) division, while 90 youth teams and more than 1,700 athletes competed in the Youth Club Championships (YCC) division. The event continued as an invite-only competition that highlights the best teams, athletes and competition the sport has to offer from around the world. The 2017 event featured teams from seven nations: Colombia, Germany, Italy, Japan, Mexico, the United Kingdom and the United States.

The 2017 U.S. Open also marked the sport's first-ever live broadcast on ESPN2. The ICC mixed division championship final aired live on the linear network and included USA Ultimate's first direct-to-consumer television commercial, part of the organization's new Live Ultimate marketing campaign.

In conjunction with the tournament portion of the event, a convention was also held, open to anyone and everyone in the ultimate community who desired to advance and develop the sport of ultimate worldwide.

The 2017 convention provided sessions on coaching and long-term athlete development, engaging and retaining sponsorships and the Girls' Ultimate Movement, as well as an open forum on gender equity and diversity, all designed with athletes, organizers and coaches in mind. It was also an opportunity for affiliates and state organizations from around the country to gather and exchange ideas and updates on a variety of topics.

Masters Division Expansion

As part of ongoing efforts to increase opportunities for continued participation in the sport, USA Ultimate doubled the size of the masters division in 2017, increasing the competitive options from three divisions to six. The mixed masters (30+ females, 33+ males), women's grand masters (37+) and great grand masters (45+ females, 50+ males) divisions premiered at the 2017 Masters Championships in Aurora, Colo.

YOUTH COMPETITION

USA Ultimate provides competition programs for every age group of its more than 58,000 members. As in recent years, the youth division was one of the organization's fastest-growing divisions in 2017. For the fourth year in a row, the number of youth teams participating in USA Ultimate's competition programs outnumbered the number of participating club teams.

The Youth Club Championships (YCC), now part of the U.S. Open Club Championships, continues to expand each year, as a reflection of the growth of youth membership, with more athletes and teams than ever competing at the 2017 edition. Participation in youth club leagues also continues to increase every year, continuing the growth of the future of ultimate.

Each year, USA Ultimate hosts and helps organize dozens of youth division events across the country. Specifically hosted by USA Ultimate are youth club regional championship events and the Youth Club Championships. High school state championships are organized locally, but USA Ultimate assists with the organization and expansion of the program and sanctions each event.

Youth Club Regionals

2017 marked the first year in the transition from High School Regional Championships to Youth Club Regionals. USA Ultimate's youth regional championship events shifted to the fall and a club team structure, moving away from the previous high-school-based teams. Fifteen teams competed across two regional championship events: Northeasterns and Westerns. The 15 teams also included USA Ultimate's first U-15 division at a championship event.

COLLEGE COMPETITION

The college division continues to be USA Ultimate's largest member segment; a total of 15,063 athletes participated in the 2017 college series.

The College Championship Postseason Series was again held to qualify teams for the 2017 College Championships. Championships were held for Division I and Division III schools in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Lexington, Ky., respectively.

College membership grew in 2017, but college series participation dipped slightly due to the first weekend of conference championships falling on Easter Weekend. As a result, there was a 2 percent decrease in men's players, a 1 percent increase in women's players and a 11 percent decrease in total participation.

The College Championships were broadcast live for the fifth consecutive year by the Worldwide Leader in Sports. The semifinals were broadcast on ESPN3, and finals were broadcast live around the nation on ESPNU on Memorial Day.

ACE Program

The Achieving Collegiate Excellence (ACE) Program, sponsored by Breakmark, is designed to provide incentives and recognize growth and sustainability of college ultimate programs based on team development and alignment with the three Cs of USA Ultimate's mission: character, community and competition.

Teams can be recognized as five-star, four-star, three-star or honorable mention programs. Each level comes with specific benefits for the teams recognized. Twenty teams were included as honorees in 2017.

CLUB COMPETITION

The Triple Crown Tour was introduced in 2012 as the new club division competition format and was officially established in 2013, making the 2017 season the fifth year of the Triple Crown Tour structure.

The Triple Crown Tour (TCT) builds on the success of the longstanding club series and was developed through feedback from the ultimate community. The TCT was structured with four main goals in mind:

- Provide more meaningful playing opportunities
- Provide more accessible playing opportunities
- Encourage participation and growth
- Showcase the sport at its best

Every club ultimate team in North America is eligible to participate in the Triple Crown Tour. Teams are slotted into four flights based on competitive performance, with the potential to be promoted or relegated dependent on the current year's results. Each year, the best of the best will get a chance to compete for the Triple Crown, the ultimate ultimate champion who wins the U.S. Open Club Championships, the Pro Championships and the National Championships in the same year.

Teams: Top eight teams in North America
Qualification: Top eight teams based on results from the previous season's National Championship

Teams: 9th-16th best teams in North America
Qualification: Teams placing 9th-16th at the previous season's National Championship

Teams: Up to four teams per geographic region, 32 teams maximum
Qualification: Based on regional playoff results, in order of top teams that do not qualify for the National Championships

Teams: Unlimited
Qualification: Any USA Ultimate registered team eligible to compete in the regular season or the postseason Championship Series

With a more formal regular season, games played at TCT events over the summer leading up the Championship Series really matter. Teams in each flight are provided opportunities to play in events specific to their flight, guaranteeing at-level competition for all participating teams throughout the TCT. Cross-flight challenges are built into the season schedule as well, ensuring that teams have access to playing opportunities that will help them develop and keep the Tour competitive.

The U.S Open Club Championships and other existing events, as well as some new events, were included in the 2017 club season as tour stops for each flight.

EVENT	LOCATION
U.S. Open Club Championships	Blaine, Minn.
Pro-Elite Challenge – Colorado Cup	Aurora, Colo.
Elite-Select Challenge	Appleton, Wis.
Select Flight Invite – Oshadega Invite	Columbus, Ohio
Pro Championships	Burlington, Wash.
National Championships	Sarasota, Fla.

The more structured TCT format provides additional showcase opportunities for the sport, for participating players, the current ultimate community, outside fans and media. The TCT system also helps develop more consistency for teams and more opportunities for sponsorships and increased exposure.

The sixth-annual U.S. Open, the first re-branded as the U.S. Open Club Championships and combined with the Youth Club Championships, was contested in Blaine, Minn., from Aug. 4-7. Competition and convention sessions were all held at the National Sports Center.

In addition to the United States representation at the event, the International Club Championships (ICC) competition field included eight international teams from six nations around the world: Colombia, Germany, Italy, Japan, Mexico and the United Kingdom.

The 2017 U.S. Open also marked the sport's first-ever live broadcast on ESPN2. The ICC mixed division championship final aired live on the linear network and included USA Ultimate's first direct-to-consumer television commercial, part of the organization's new Live Ultimate marketing campaign.

Postseason Championship Series

Teams have an opportunity to win prize money for each of the three legs of the Triple Crown, starting with the U.S. Open and followed by the Pro Championships and the National Championships.

Seattle Mixtape won the Triple Crown in 2017, becoming the first team in the mixed division to earn the distinction. San Francisco Revolver is the only other team that has won the Triple Crown, accomplishing the feat twice (2013, 2015).

Regular-season rankings once again had direct implications for National Championships bid allocations. Rankings were maintained throughout the season, with a minimum threshold for inclusion of 10 sanctioned games.

For a third consecutive year, the mixed division was the largest with 254 competing teams in 2017, followed by the men's division with 215.

CLUB PARTICIPATION (TEAMS)

The 2017 National Championships were held at the Premier Sports Campus in Sarasota, Fla., from Oct. 19-22. Forty-eight teams and more than 1,200 athletes competed in Sarasota with eyes on taking home national titles in the men's, mixed and women's divisions.

For a fifth straight year, seven games from the semifinal and final rounds of play at the National Championships were broadcast live on ESPN3.

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Highlighted in Goal Five of the strategic plan, achieving sustained excellence of USA Ultimate teams in international competition is a major focus for USA Ultimate. U.S. national teams participated in four international events in 2017: the World Games, the World Championships of Beach Ultimate (WCBU), the World Great Grand Masters Beach Ultimate Championships and the Pan American Ultimate Club Championships (PAUCC), all hosted by the World Flying Disc Federation.

2017 was another dominant year for the U.S. on the international stage. The U.S. National Team earned gold at the World Games in Wroclaw, Poland, the fourth consecutive World Games gold medal for the U.S. At WCBU, the U.S. reached the championship final in every division. In all, the U.S. contingent earned six gold medals and one silver medal, plus a gold at the World Great Grand Masters Beach Ultimate Championships. In Argentina at PAUCC, the U.S. teams took home five medals, winning gold in the mixed and men's masters divisions.

World Games

Every four years, the World Flying Disc Federation hosts the World Games. The 2017 event was held July 20-30, in Wroclaw, Poland.

Seventy athletes were invited to tryouts and considered for just 20 spots on the National Team. The final roster consisted of 14 athletes, seven men and seven women who traveled to Poland, and six alternates.

In their first game of the tournament, the U.S. fell to Colombia 12-13, but defeated Canada, Australia and Japan to move to 3-1 in the preliminary rounds. In the gold-medal game, the U.S. avenged their earlier loss, defeating Colombia and bringing home World Games gold for the fourth consecutive time.

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

The 2017 World Championships of Beach Ultimate were held in Royan, France, June 18-24, and were hosted by the World Flying Disc Federation and the Beach Ultimate Lovers Association.

The U.S. sent national teams in all seven contested divisions: men's, mixed, women's, men's masters, mixed masters, women's masters and men's grand masters. Together, they combined for a remarkable 83-3 record over seven days of play.

Nearly 750 athletes submitted applications to be considered for one of the seven select national teams that travelled to France, with just 104 eventually selected by a committee of team managers and USA Ultimate staff.

The U.S. was the reigning champion from 2015 in all divisions except mixed. The contingent left Royan with gold in the men's, mixed, men's masters, mixed masters, women's masters and men's grand masters divisions. The U.S. women's team earned silver.

Lastly, WFDF sanctioned the WGGMBUC, which was held separately, in Praia do Meco, Portugal, June 17-21. The U.S. men's great grand masters team earned gold at the event.

PROGRAM

Sanctioning Program

With the goal of encouraging and supporting growth of ultimate at all levels, the USA Ultimate Sanctioning Program assists event organizers in providing their local communities with opportunities to participate and learn about the sport through high-quality, well-organized events. Tournaments and leagues sanctioned through USA Ultimate receive legitimacy through their association with USA Ultimate, insurance coverage, access to additional resources and materials and much more.

USA Ultimate sanctioned 524 events in 2017, accounting for nearly five percent growth over 2016. In addition to local leagues and tournaments, those 524 sanctioned events included 106 college regular-season events and 58 club events to make up the divisions' official regular seasons.

USA ULTIMATE SANCTIONED EVENTS

Tournament Director's Certification Program

The Tournament Director's Certification Program (TDCP) certified 121 members in 2017, bringing the total number of certified members to 606. Having launched in 2015 and with certifications lasting two years, a re-certification program was ready at the end of the year for those needing to re-certify. The re-certification program was released concurrently with the second version of the Tournament Director's Manual, which was updated with information on topics including equity, conduct issues, cart safety and lightning safety.

The TDCP was designed to help provide the best possible tournament experience for athletes, coaches, chaperones, family members and fans. The cornerstone of the TDCP is the Tournament Director's Manual which includes information about safety, standards and best practices that can help organizers run the best events possible.

*2010 marked the beginning of the official college regular season.

2012 marked the beginning of the official club regular season.

Outreach Programs

In 2017, USA Ultimate held 36 Learn to Play clinics, seven more than in 2016, and three Learn to Play leagues. The total youth participation at Learn to Play clinics and leagues increased by nearly 100 athletes (598 in 2016 to 694 in 2017).

Approximately 1,200 elementary school, middle school and high school kids participated in youth outreach clinics in 2017 through Learn to Play, GUM, community recreation and other programs in partnership with local disc associations. The number of kids participating overall increased by more than 60, and the total number of clinics and leagues increased from 64 in 2016 to 69 in 2017.

USA Ultimate also licensed its day camp program to Altitude Youth Ultimate for the second consecutive year. Eighty-three kids attended four week-long summer camps in Denver and Boulder.

For a fifth straight year, the Youth Club Championships played host to a Talent ID Camp. Coaches from around the country were on-hand to lead clinics and training sessions with 87 top youth ultimate players in the United States (a tremendous increase from 31 participants in 2016), each of whom had elected to register for and participate in the day camp.

USA Ultimate staff members also attended the National SHAPE conference in 2017 and worked with the new outreach volunteer structure to support presentations at 13 state physical education teacher conferences. USA Ultimate also supported Maine Ultimate's presence at a Girls on the Run 5K event as they promoted girls' ultimate and GUM. In addition, USA Ultimate provided physical education in-service support for a program in Columbus, Ohio. Conferences and events like these help USA Ultimate continue networking efforts with various community, recreation and teachers' organizations and advance the sport of ultimate amongst these key groups.

During the 2017 calendar year, nearly 125 outreach kits, accounting for more than 1,200 discs, were distributed to groups advancing ultimate as a teaching tool and recreational activity. Newly forming teams, schools, teachers, community recreation groups and organizations, YMCAs, Boy Scouts troops, parks and recreation programs, and Learn to Play and GUM clinic organizers all received kits thanks to USA Ultimate equipment grants to help support local grassroots efforts to expand ultimate's reach around the country.

Girls' Ultimate Movement

The Girls' Ultimate Movement (GUM) continued its great work in 2017, the program's fourth official year. GUM focuses on creating opportunities for more girls to participate in sports, lead with their peers and celebrate the beauty of sport with their opponents.

The total number of Girls' Ultimate Movement (GUM) clinics for kids of all ages slightly decreased in 2017, with 33 clinics, down from 35 in 2016, while the total youth participation decreased from 517 in 2016 to 483 in 2017.

In addition to creating more competitive opportunities for girls, GUM is also working to provide more coverage of female athletes, particularly from the female perspective. In 2017, USA Ultimate published seven GUM blog posts, a tremendous increase from zero in 2016 and two in 2015. The posts' topics ranged from mental toughness to organizing to playing in the YCC finals for the first time and playing D-III ultimate.

Coaching

Through the Coaching Development Program (CDP), USA Ultimate has been running clinics to certify coaches since 2004. The Coaching Development Program, again sponsored by Five Ultimate in 2017, is a process of educating coaches, professionalizing and growing the vocation of coaching and creating a pool of qualified volunteers to help grow the sport of ultimate.

In 2017, USA Ultimate's Coaching Development Program hosted 26 full-day Ethics & Coaching Performance Workshops across the United States and four online ethics-only workshops. Total members participating in the Coaching Development Program dropped to 451 in 2017, but coach and coach/player memberships both slightly increased during the year.

USA Ultimate's outreach and education staff collaborated with three coaching task forces – one each in Seattle, Minneapolis and Boston – along with CDP instructors to determine new goals for the CDP that better serve the needs of the ultimate community and to continue professionalizing the vocation of coaching.

Additionally, it was established that the CDP would have A, B and C level certifications, each geared toward a particular age group and skill level of ultimate players.

Also in 2017, as part of ongoing improvements to safeguard ultimate athletes, new educational requirements were added for anyone interested in a coach-level USA Ultimate membership, including the CDC's online concussion training and SafeSport training regarding athlete protection.

USA ULTIMATE COACHING MEMBERSHIPS

Observer Program

USA Ultimate endorses the use of observers in ultimate but does not endorse the use of referees. Observers have the responsibility to uphold Spirit of the Game on the field, but responsibility for the integrity of ultimate and Spirit of the Game remains with the players.

The USA Ultimate Observer Program took on its current structure in 2005 with the completion of a standardized training manual, outlining of the training clinic curriculum and development of criteria for certification. The Observer Program is overseen by the USA Ultimate Observer Committee which is responsible for determining guidelines for observing, including current standards for USA Ultimate competition, and training materials and methods.

In 2017, the USA Ultimate Observer Program held seven successful clinics, training and certifying 33 new observers. Sixty-two observers were also recertified over the course of the year.

USA Ultimate announced its inaugural Observer of the Year Awards in 2017. The observer award program was established to recognize the hard work and dedication of certified observers. The winners of these awards were recognized for the impact they had on the sport of ultimate during the 2016 calendar year.

Laura Meyer was the inaugural recipient of the Observer the Year award. The Rookie Observer of the Year award went to Paderic Driscoll.

OBSERVER PROGRAM

MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

Sponsorship and Merchandising

In 2017, USA Ultimate continued its marketing partnerships with several endemic merchandise manufacturers, including Five Ultimate, Spin Ultimate and VC Ultimate. These companies again were licensees of the USA Ultimate brand and marks, and served as the official merchandise provider of at least one of USA Ultimate's nine championship-level events.

Five Ultimate also served as the official apparel provider and sponsor of the U.S. National Teams competing at the World Games and the World Flying Disc Federation's World Championships of Beach Ultimate.

Revenue from sponsorship, licensing and merchandise revenue increased by 12 percent in 2017, despite merchandising four fewer championship events; cash sponsorship increased by 28 percent.

Broadcasting

In an extension of the partnership begun in 2013, USA Ultimate championship events were again broadcast live on the ESPN family of networks in 2017. The year marked the beginning of a new, three-year completely gender equal agreement. Live coverage of the College Championships semifinals, U.S. Open Club Championships and National Championships was available on ESPN3. Live coverage of the College Championships finals was provided on ESPNU on Memorial Day, the first-ever live broadcast on the linear network, followed by additional coverage shown on ESPNU during primetime the week after the event.

The first-ever live broadcast of ultimate on ESPN2 occurred at the U.S. Open Club Championships, with the mixed championship final airing live on the linear network during primetime. The U.S. Open men's and women's division finals will be broadcast live on ESPN2 over the next two years. The Pro Championships were also added to the ESPN programming slate for 2017, with live coverage of the three championship finals available on ESPN3 on Labor Day.

Alignment with the "Worldwide Leader in Sports" provides exposure for the sport of ultimate unmatched in previous years and correlates directly with Goal One in USA Ultimate's strategic plan. The ESPN relationship also allowed USA Ultimate to place more highlight clips in SportsCenter's Top 10.

To provide extra support for the mixed and women's club divisions, USA Ultimate partnered with Fulcrum Media Group to livestream 41 games from the U.S. Open Club Championships and National Championships on Facebook, reaching over 13 million people. In all, 119 games from USA Ultimate championship events were streamed across four platforms (ESPN, TSN, Facebook and Utiworld) in 2017: 51 women's games, 34 mixed games and 34 men's games.

As part of marketing efforts for the World Games team, USA Ultimate created the video series "Inside Out" featuring exclusive and intimate interviews with each World Games athlete. The 20 videos collectively reached over one million people on Facebook and YouTube.

Communications, Social Media, Website

Five microsites were developed and launched in 2017, creating a more user-friendly and mobilely responsive way for players and fans to find and follow information about some of USA Ultimate's biggest events. Custom sites were created for the College Championships, U.S. Open, Triple Crown Tour and USA Ultimate National Teams. A fifth site was developed as part of the organization's first major marketing and branding campaign: Live Ultimate.

The Live Ultimate campaign was created with the help of two outside agencies, Jack Morton Worldwide and Hats + Rabbits, with three phases of engagement in mind, accounting for all levels of familiarity with the sport: those who already know it and love it, those who have a peripheral knowledge and those who are completely new to ultimate. The campaign is largely digital, but the launch of the Live Ultimate Ambassador Program brought on board some of the sport's biggest names and influencers to help engage the community with #LiveUltimate. Live Ultimate marketing items were also distributed heavily at the 2017 National Championships.

2017 marked the third year of USA Ultimate Weekly. Throughout the course of the year, 40 issues of the Weekly were released in web and email formats. More than 20,000 people were subscribed to receive the email version in 2017, an increase of 100 percent in subscribers over the previous year, with thousands more views on the web version.

USA Ultimate Weekly is an easy place for anyone and everyone to keep up to date with the goings on at USA Ultimate.

The marketing and communications team added a manager of digital marketing and communications early in 2017 to help ramp up the organization's digital presence. As a result of the addition, and increased, engaging content like the Inside Out series and live streams from championship events, USA Ultimate's social media outlets each ended 2017 with impressive increases in followers.

Mobile App

New features and capabilities continue to be added to the USA Ultimate mobile app. In its third year, development began to make the app's "My Teams" feature much more robust, with team event information, score updates and media information available through custom push notifications. The added features continue to increase the usability and relevance of the app for all its users.
